The WSN Clearview™ Foundation Server (WCFS) for Enterprise Content Management (ECM) is the building block for an all-encompassing repository where the entirety of the organization's electronic file content can be managed. WCFS is the first modern ECM solution designed to provide a new era of content aggregation, unification and access across your organization. WCFS provides out-of-the-box (OOTB) connectivity to many commercial repositories such as, Microsoft® Sharepoint®, Alfresco® and Documentum® with our add-on connectors. Our innovative ECM client applications connect to the application server to provide easy search and retrieve of content spanning all security accessible repositories across the entirety of your business organization. With complete access to all information across the business enterprise, you can continue to elevate the quality and accuracy of business decisions, substantially improve information worker collaboration, and achieve unparalleled levels of customer service.

Values and Benefits

- Federate Content from Multiple Repositories

- Improve Audit & Compliance with your Content

- Improve Productivity with Unified Content Across LOBs

- Provide a Single, Intuitive User Experience to Manage Content

- Easily Search & Retrieve Content with Intelligent Results

"One of the most interesting things about the Clearview solution is the extent to which Clearview leverages SharePoint Server and the Microsoft Office system – not just as a platform for delivering core ECM functionality – but also as part of the core user experience.

The integration of SharePoint Server and the Office system is pretty much seamless and delivers the power of both the SharePoint Server and Office system document management features in a very comprehensive, Microsoft-oriented user experience."
