

Empower your organization to federate Office 365 content with any line-of-business (LOB) application. You want to improve collaboration, have better document controls, provide new capabilities and to reduce SharePoint management tasks. Microsoft Office Suite is used throughout the organization for content creation, distribution, and consumption. Additionally, more members of your organization are turning to Bring-Your-Own-Device (BYOD) solutions. This creates new opportunities to build a content creation ecosystem and leverage Office 365 which is well suited to meet organizational needs. At the core of the issue for end users is not the Microsoft Office Suite, it's access on BYOD. Not supporting these devices will decrease productivity and may introduce non-compliance with corporate content policy. WSN Clearview for Office 365 enables your organization to thrive in the BYOD paradigm shift while providing user convenience and corporate compliance.

“One of the most interesting things about the Clearview solution is the extent to which Clearview leverages SharePoint Server and the Microsoft Office system – not just as a platform for delivering core ECM functionality – but also as part of the core user experience.

The integration of SharePoint Server and the Office system is pretty much seamless and delivers the power of both the SharePoint Server and Office system document management features in a very comprehensive, Microsoft-oriented user experience.”
